PRESS RELEASE

PRIME MINISTER ANNOUNCES DATE FOR GRENADA'S NEXT GENERAL ELECTIONS

May 15, 2022 – Grenadians will go to the polls on Thursday, June 23, 2022.

Prime Minister, Dr. the Right Honourable Keith Mitchell, made the announcement at a political meeting in Telescope, St. Andrew on Saturday night.

Explaining the timetable for the run-up to the poll, Dr. Mitchell said he has already asked the Governor General to dissolve Parliament, effective Monday, May 16.

Further, he has asked the Governor General to issue the writ for elections on May 17. This essentially means that Grenadians who are not yet registered have only one remaining day to do so, and be able to cast their ballot in the upcoming general elections.

Nomination day for candidates will be Wednesday, June 1.

As is customary, police officers will participate in advance polling on Monday, June 20, while the rest of the electorate will vote on June 23.
